

Update on Lots near Hartung Park

While the City of Milwaukee does plan to sell a few lots from the land at the old Hartung quarry, the exact number, timing and location have yet to be determined as further study of the land is needed. What we do know at this time is that the lots are part of phase 2 of the park development. Phase 2 is not slated to begin until 2009 or later depending on the quarry reaching full capacity, which is a function of how much fill material the City brings in on annual basis. We are sorry we do not have any further details regarding lots at this time.
